I want to know how to improve this one : I was thinking of making two separate windows, but I wasn't sure how to know when they were clicked. A: As you mentioned, you can take two separate windows and make it work like a split screen. For example, an "About Us" window could be on the left and the "Contact Us" window can be on the right. Here, when you click on "Contact Us" the "About Us" stays on the left half and the "Contact Us" window remains on the right half. Similarly, if you click on "About Us", the "Contact Us" window switches to the left and "About Us" window to the right. Please let me know if this answer helps. I will write this answer without taking care of the formatting. A bright life in the 'Valey of Avignon': James VI

With the new ALLCapture you can capture your desktop activities in real-time and create your own videos, demos, software simulations and tutorials, in no time whatsoever! Just press the button and the ALLCapture will start to record your desktop activities to your hard-drive. You can adjust the size of the recording window, independently of the resolution of your display. The size of the preview window can be determined by the user. You can terminate the recording with only a push of a button. The recorded information can be displayed on a second monitor, so that you can check and correct anything, even before the recording finishes. The cursor can be excluded from the recording, so that you can create even very complex recordings. The recorded information can be saved as a SWF, ASF (Windows Media), MPEG, EXE file or in your own encoding format. You can easily add audio, pictures, animated effects, text or music to the recording by only dragging and dropping the appropriate objects onto the input area. It is also possible to add audio to an existing recording. You can switch between audio-, picture-, mouse cursor and video-transitions as you like. You can even change the colour quality and frame-rate of the created videos. By storing your video in the program's own archive format, you can easily adapt the size of your video for various uses. The speed of your video can be varied for a more thorough explanation. Furthermore, you can easily export your SWF Flash-Demo or ASF (Windows Media) to any video format your friends can view. All effects can be adjusted, so that they fit your video perfectly. ALLCapture provides a rich text editor that allows you to add pictures to existing comments or in the timeline. You can even delete comments and insert new ones. Furthermore you can provide a background music, and any audio track can be inserted. In the editor it is possible to change the display time of your comments. Furthermore, you can alter the sound quality of the audio track. It is even possible to insert text or audio files in your YouTube videos. Besides the editing features of the program, ALLCapture provides several options that can be quickly accessed by pressing the appropriate hotkey combination. These options include an authoring tool that is perfect for creating your own navigation bars, a fast conversion from SWF to AVI-Format, a fast compilation of your recordings and a powerful audio-editor.Reviews of this
