FIFA 22 introduces “Player Impact Engine,” which gathers data from the largest number of real-life players playing a football match ever. This system will increase the authenticity of the game and will also allow the game to deliver realistic player movements as they adapt to changes in game conditions. Players will be able to adapt to an ever-changing game situation thanks to the introduction of the “Adaptive Player Trajectory Engine.” Real-Life Progression Mode will take players through a series of game-changing moments using real-life stadiums. The progression will only show up in career mode, online multiplayer and online cups. “We are very excited with this new feature and we think it's going to push the game further for a realistic experience. That's what we want because we are not satisfied by the previous game,” said Sporting Director Marcus Rabiej. The “Ultimate Team” will receive season-long updates with additional content. “In 2016, we launched FIFA 17 and, despite the new generation of consoles, we saw a continuous growth of the Ultimate Team for the first time. We can claim a win in 2017 thanks to our fans' passion towards our game. The market has grown and so has the story of the game," added Rabiej. He continued: "We are more than five years ahead with Ultimate Team. We are bringing the new generation of consoles with FIFA 17, but that is not enough for us." "FIFA 17" developed by EA Canada for Playstation 4, Playstation 3, Xbox One, Xbox 360 and PC is now available in more than 170 countries and territories worldwide. Read more at www.easports.com/fifa. Additional content for the new "FIFA 18" platform will be released worldwide this holiday season. Q: How to compare the values of two NSArray in Swift I am trying to compare two NSArray in swift using sort function. After sorting the values, the NSArray is always sorted, but it is not sorting according to the first element of each array. Example: var array1 = ["a", "b", "c"] var array2 = ["a", "b", "c"] After comparing both NSArray it becomes: array

Features Key:

- New management and player development systems - The revamped management tools in FIFA Ultimate Team allow you to develop your club's roster, tactics and more as you shape your team for success. Players can now train more often, to hone their talent - so they'll be stronger, faster and more effective when it counts. In FIFA 22, players can now train with each other in competitions, and accept invitations to play with friends or squads from other organizations, too.

- Real-world animations - HyperMotion Technology uses real-world motion capture data to animate 22 real-life players and create astonishingly realistic, player-controlled actions during gameplay. Those animations are refined in the course of the full gameplay motion-capture session, so you'll feel like you're playing against players who've just left the real pitch.
 - Unlock rewards through gameplay - A new achievements system gives you even more ways to unlock rewards for recruiting better players and for completing matches - while the new Moments menu makes it easier to take your favorite moments and share them with your friends.
 - Real-team crowds - Swap between your own squad and the options on the pitch using a new Quick Switch feature, and keep the noise of the crowd going for the whole time with dynamic crowd effects. Kick off for less using your squad's momentum to move the ball out of their own penalty area forays, or sense the chance to counterattack against any empty-net shot. Your own rally concerts are now included, too.
 - Enhanced injury dynamics - Whether dribbling down the wing or heading into a set-piece, you'll now feel the force of another player's tackle, or the player resists and slows down to collect balls.
 - Video tutorials for Manager Career Mode & Pro Challenges
 - FIFA TRAILERS FIFA 22 is a real-world football game that lets you take on the ball in the most authentic way possible. Build your own team, manage the squad, take your training to another level, and progress through all of the game's modes using your own real-world tactics.
