Girl in a Red "Girl in a Red" is a song recorded by American country music singer Jordan Allen, released in June 2018 as the third single from his second EP, Never Ever Your Mind. The song was written by Shane McAnally, Josh Osborne and Jesse Frasure. In addition to being the title track of his EP, the song was Allen's debut single, peaking at number 11 on the Hot Country Songs chart. The song received a positive reception from critics, who compared it to Allen's 2017 single "Stones in the Road" and his collaboration with Sam Hunt, "I See a Darkness". Content "Girl in a Red" is a country rock song with a moderate beat and a medium tempo of 94 beats per minute. The song's chorus contains a vocal ad-lib of "Hey," which was inspired by the song "Hey Joe" by The Grateful Dead. The song's female protagonist is a drug addict who reflects on her "in a red" addiction to drugs. Allen said of the subject of the song, "She's a woman who's been on the wrong path. She has a broken life. She could have been a somebody, but she's a nobody and she's damaged beyond repair." Critical reception The song received a positive response from music critics. Billy Dukes of Taste of Country said the song "represents a whole lot of promise" for Allen, calling it his "best release to date." He described the song as "an interesting combination of beats and fiddles, with a sassy vocal from Allen." Writing for Roughstock, Matt Bjorke found the song to be "better than his debut, but still not a perfect introduction to country music. But it is clearly a step in the right direction." He called it a "smooth, but yet overproduced track with a lot of potential." Kevin John Coyne of Country Universe said the song "has the surging intensity of a grand slam home run. It'll put you in a league that few other country releases can." Commercial performance "Girl in a Red" debuted at number 44 on the Billboard Country Airplay chart for the week of July 18, 2018. It also debuted at number 59 on the Billboard Hot Country Songs chart for the week of October 7, 2018. On the Hot Country Songs chart dated November 25, 2018, the song reached a new peak of 39. The song has sold 6,100 copies in the US as of January 2019.

(CNN) A Florida man was sentenced to 23 years in prison for making a video of himself shooting dead his then-9-year-old son and sending it to his mother. Kimberly Aston, 37, was sentenced in Palm Beach County circuit court on Wednesday, after pleading guilty to manslaughter in the 2017 shooting death of Junior. Aston, who was 15 at the time of the shooting, faced a maximum sentence of 15 years in prison, and pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of manslaughter with a firearm. Aston shot Junior while he was sleeping in the bedroom of their home in Weston, Florida, according to court documents. Aston reportedly walked around the room with a gun in his hand for an hour, and later texted his mother in tears while telling her he shot her son. "I swear if I ever find a way to get my gun back, I'm going to shoot him. That was the last one. I swear," he told her. Read MoreLG to launch new S-pen model in July? Lately, the LG G7 has been spotted frequently around the web, and this time it looks like the Korean company will launch a new iteration of the device dubbed the LG G7+. Although the G7+ has only two rear cameras and only two storage variants, LG has launched the device with dual rear cameras in other markets, and it seems that the company will do the same here in the U.S. as well. An Indian tipster claimed earlier this month that the LG G7+ will be launched on July 22, and his source indicates that it will be available in two storage configurations, 64GB and 128GB. The G7+ is also said to come in either Black or Silver. In addition, the G7+ is said to sport a triple-lens rear camera, and it will also sport an in-display fingerprint sensor alongside the new S-Pen. As for the G7, it is still not clear whether this will be an upgraded version or it will come with incremental features.Q: Strange compiler error while using variable ID in UPDATE MySQL query I'm getting a strange compile error: line 6, column 1 - 'foreign' is not a valid keyword at this line: UPDATE xrm_customer SET customer.user_id = users_id, customer.name = users_name
